Re: United States v. Narco Freedom, Inc., 14 Civ. 8593 (JGK)

Dear Judge Koeltl:

We write respectfully on behalf of the United States (the “Government”) in the above-referenced action, with respect to the hearing scheduled by the Court for November 12, 2014, at 4:30 p.m., to consider the Government’s pending motion for a preliminary injunction. Specifically, we write to inquire as to whether the Court wishes to hear live witness testimony at the hearing, or if the Court intends to rely upon the declarations and other papers submitted by the parties. In the event the Court intends to hear live testimony, the Government anticipates presenting approximately 5-8 witnesses, and additionally seeks guidance from the Court regarding the timing of the submission of the parties’ witness and exhibit lists. In the event the Court does not intend for the hearing to include live testimony, the Government believes that it can rest on the papers submitted with the motion, and with its upcoming reply brief.

Respectfully submitted,

PREET BHARARA
United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York
